Lindsey Conroy, PhD

(former Neuroscience Postdoctoral Fellow)

Publications Manager

Insulet Corporation

Dr. Lindsey Conroy received her PhD in Biochemistry and Molecular Genetics from the University of Louisville in 2020. Following her doctoral training, Dr. Conroy joined UK as a postdoctoral fellow in the laboratory of Dr. Ramon Sun. Her postdoctoral research focused on complex carbohydrate metabolism and its role in health and disease, and she was awarded fellowships from NCI and the ACS for her work.

Dr. Conroy is currently the Publications Manager for Insulet Corporation where she utilizes her research background and medical writing expertise to develop and implement the organization's global publication strategy.
