

BERD BITES

Bringing Information and Training to Educate Scholars

DATE

Monday,
 November 27th, 2023

TIME

12:00 to 12:50pm
 via Zoom

Diversity in Clinical Research:

Can we do better?

This presentation will briefly discuss the importance of diversity in clinical research, will provide a brief overview of the recent efforts to improve diversity to address health disparities, and will engage the audience in a discussion around practical approaches to achieve diversity in clinical research.

Presented by:

Daniela Moga, MD, PhD

Associate Professor and Assistant Dean for Research (CTS), Larry H. Spears Endowed Chair in Pharmacogenetics, College of Pharmacy
 Associate Professor, College of Public Health
 Faculty, Sanders-Brown Center on Aging & Institute for Pharmaceutical Outcomes and Policy (IPOP)

We provide	Open consultations for the audience at the end of the seminar                  Consultations on study design for clinical trials, community-based participatory research, and population-based (epidemiologic) studies                  Protocol review                  Referrals                  Quantitative data analysis for CCTS pilots
Our Team 	Richard Kryscio, PhD (Director)                  Douglas Zhang, PhD (Co-Director)                  Emily Slade, PhD                  Reuben Adatorwovor, PhD                  Kelsey Karnik, PhD	Heather Bush, PhD (Co-Director)                  Maggie Lang                  Phil Westgate, PhD                  Meredith Duncan, PhD                  Sarah Jane Robbins